OREGON LEGISLATURE

Fourth Regular Session.

Senate

FRIDAY Oct 5 1866

Prayer by Rev David Leslie

Mr CYRUS presented the petition of members of Scio Lodge I O G T for an amendment to the law regulating the granting of licenses to sell spirituous liquors

On motion of Mr CYRUS the petition was referred to the Judiciary Committee

REPORTS FROM STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr WATSON from the Committee on Claims to whom was referred S B 10—For the relief of Mary Jane Hart—reported the same back with a recommendation that it pass

Also S B 21—For the relief of C A Reed Adjutant General of Oregon—with a similar recommendation

Mr JOHNSON from a majority of the Judiciary Committee reported back S B [illegible]—[illegible] tax and protect Chinamen mining in Oregon—with an opinion adverse to its passage The report objected 1st The Constitution provides that all taxes shall be equal The bill provides for taxing only a portion of the inhabitants 2d The Constitution provides that no Chinaman not an inhabitant at the time of its adoption shall acquire the right to hold real estate or mines within the State The bill practically provides that Chinamen may work the mines and is therefore in contravention of the State Constitution 3d It is in contravention of the spirit, if not the words of the treaty existing between the United States and the Chinese Empire 4th It is in contravention of the law of Congress to secure Civil Rights to all citizens

Mr CARTWRIGHT presented a minority report from the same committee, controverting the several positions of the majority report offering some amendments and recommending that the bill pass

The amendments offered by Mr CARTWRIGHT were adopted, and the bill was ordered engrossed for third reading to-morrow

Mr JOHNSON reported back from Judiciary Committee S B No 14—To provide for the recovery of real estate in cases of forcible entry and detainer, etc—with several immaterial amendments, and a recommendation that it pass The amendments were adopted and the bill was considered engrossed and ordered to be read the third time to-day

REPORTS FROM SELECT COMMITTEES.

Mr CARTWRIGHT stated the joint committee to examine into the condition of the penitentiary was not certain how far its authority extended—whether it extended so far as to enable the committee to examine into the conduct of the contractor Though the committee had not agreed upon a report the members had agreed each to ask their respective Houses for instructions and for authority to send for persons and papers as to the matter of whether the contractor had complied with his contract He made a motion to give such authority

The question being raised whether the resolution providing for the joint committee did not convey the authority asked the matter was laid over informally for the purpose of examining the resolution

The following bills were read third time.

S B No 12—To amend the act taxing foreign insurance &c

Mr PALMER said he was informed that another bill on this subject will be introduced in the House this morning which would probably suit the views of Senators better than this one; he therefore moved to lay this bill on the table for the present.

The motion was defeated and the bill was passed—18 yeas to 2 nays—absent, Cartwright and Pyle.

S B No 13—To provide for the recovery of real property in cases of forcible entry and detainer or of forcible detention only, and to prescribe the notice to quit in case a tenant holds over Passed—yeas 19 nays none; absent 2.

THE U. S. CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Mr WHITE moved to reconsider the vote taken last Saturday upon the resolutions introduced by Mr Humason declaring the action of the House in ratifying the amendment to the Constitution to be fraudulent

Mr HUMASON moved a call of the House. Messrs Locey and Rosenheim were absent The Sergeant-at Arms was sent for them

By unanimous consent while waiting for absentees, Mr GEHR introduced H B No 70 in relation to District Attorneys.

Mr OLNEY asked consent to offer a resolution

Mr WORTH objected and moved that the further call of the House be dispensed with Mr WHITE; I hope this motion will not pass It has been well understood that Mr Locey should have an opportunity to be present and vote upon this question A [illegible] has now been sent for him and he will soon be here.

Mr HUMASON Question question

Mr OLNEY insisted on the call of the House

Mr WORTH withdrew his motion

Mr LOCEY entered and took his seat

Mr GEHR What has become of Mr Rosenheim?

Mr HELM thought he had been abducted

Many of the members left their seats and much confusion followed

The SPEAKER In transacting solemn business like this we must keep order

Mr OLNEY I move that a committee of five be appointed to ascertain what has become of Mr Rosenheim

Mr HUMASON [Looking out on the street] I will state that I see Mr Rosenheim coming. He will be here in a moment

Mr HUMASON arose and walked out of the hall immediately followed by Mr White [Laughter A voice— Fix the jury; Laughter]

Mr HENDERSHOTT I move that the Sergeant-at Arms be instructed to procure a double barreled shot gun to enforce his authority [Laughter]

The SPEAKER Gentlemen must keep order or we will need the Sergeant at Arms in here

Mr ROSENHEIM entered and on motion the further call of the House was dispensed with

Mr HUMASON arose to a point of order that a motion had been made to reconsider the resolutions and that motion was laid on the table. Consequently the resolutions could not be acted upon again at this session

Mr OLNEY contended that the resolutions had not been reconsidered and no motion to reconsider them had been made A motion to reconsider the minutes concerning the action of the House upon the resolutions had been made and that motion laid on the table; but that could not interfere with this proposition

The SPEAKER overruled the point

Mr HUMASON appealed from the chair and lost 23 ayes to 23 nays, and after an extended and bitter discussion Mr Humason moved to postpone Mr White's motion and make it the special order for eleven o'clock to-morrow

Mr UPTON thought that would be unfair It would then be too late under the rules to reconsider as it would be after the three days within which a reconsideration can be moved After the adoption of the motion further action might be postponed

Mr ROSENHEIM stated that he would vote to postpone

The SPEAKER stated the question on the vote to reconsider

Mr HENDERSHOTT I move to adjourn and during adjournment the Sergeant at-Arms be instructed to lay the heads of certain fractious gentlemen in cold water [Laughter]

The latter part of the motion was ruled out of order and the former disagreed to by a vote of 22 to 23

The motion carried 25 to 22, Messrs Hendershott and Rosenheim voting aye

Mr ROSENHEIM moved to make the resolution the special order for eleven o'clock on to-morrow

At half past twelve on motion adjourned

AFTERNOON

Mr DEMPSEY introduced a bill appropriating one thousand dollars to defray the expenses of procuring witnesses in the Polk county case.

A QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE.

Mr GINGLES arose to a question of privilege and offered the following resolution

WHEREAS It is alleged that Orlando Humason a member of this House from the county of Wasco, did, on or about the first day of November, 1865, forward to Washington City, D C., to Hon. J. H. D. Henderson,—the said Henderson being then a member elect to the Thirty ninth Congress, deeds to certain lots and property in or near Dalles City, in the State of Oregon, which deeds were intended as a bribe to influence the action of said J. H. D Henderson upon the question of the location of the U S mint in Oregon, and

WHEREAS, Such acts, if truly stated would render said Humason unworthy of a seat in this House therefore

Resolved That a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker to investigate this matter and report the facts and evidence to the House

Resolved, That said committee have power to send for papers and persons

Mr GARLICK moved to adopt.

Mr HELM thought this a matter beyond the jurisdiction of the House Mr Humason should be indicted and tried before a judicial tribunal In saying that if the facts should be found true as alleged it would render him unworthy of a seat here, the resolutions asserted an infamous falsehood.

Mr HUMASON desired the investigation

Mr COX moved to indefinitely postpone, because he thought it had been got up in malice—lost, 10 ayes to 28 nays

Mr COCHRANE was opposed to the resolution; because they were intended as an insult to a member of the House. It was intended as an offset to something that had been done before. It asserted that a bribe had been offered to Mr Henderson If such a bribe had been offered it was possible that he had accepted it and it was advisable that there should be a thorough investigation, therefore he wished the matter to be left to the courts.

Mr COX thought it a piece of hellish malice

Mr NICKLIN reminded the gentleman that a resolution of a similar nature had been advocated by the gentleman in relation to W. W. Upton, only a few days ago, and yet it was not then charged that the proposition originated in malice

The SPEAKER ruled the resolutions out of order, as proposing a matter beyond the reach of the House

THE POLK COUNTY CASE

Was then taken up and Mr COLLINS finished his statement. He was closely cross-questioned by the friends of the sitting member He claimed eighteen illegal votes for Mr Hall, who has on the rolls eleven majority This showing leaves Collins seven ahead

Mr HALL then proceeded to state his case, pending which, at 5:15 P. M. adjourned

EVENING SESSION

Mr HENDERSHOTT moved to adjourn

Mr OLNEY suggested that there was a good deal of business from the Senate on the table, and other business which should be attended to.

The House refused to adjourn—20 yeas to 23 nays.

Mr HUMASON moved to take up the Polk county case.

Mr OLNEY said he understood the object of the evening session to be to [illegible] of the business on the table as far as possible, and get some of the bills out of the hands of the various committees. The House had not been able to get through with the regular order of business.

Mr HUMASON'S motion was lost—18 ayes to 22 nays.

Mr GEHR moved to adjourn. Lost—16 ayes to 24 nays

Mr OLNEY offered a resolution instructing the Penitentiary Committee to investigate the reports of cruel treatment to prisoners.

Mr HELM moved to lay it on the table. Lost—10 ayes to 2[illegible] nays

Mr AVERY moved to adjourn. Lost—14 ayes to 27 nays

Mr HENDERSHOTT moved a call of the House Messrs. Gingles, Locey Lockhart and Withers were absent, but soon entered, and the call dispensed with

Mr HUMASON said the House was in no temper to transact business, and moved to adjourn Refused

Mr GARLICK moved the previous question.

Mr OLNEY'S resolution was adopted—40 ayes to 4 nays.

Mr HENDERSHOTT moved to adjourn. Lost—17 ayes to 27 nays.

Mr COX moved to take up the Polk county case Ruled out of order as having been once decided.

Mr HENDERSHOTT offered a resolution to adjourn sine die on next Saturday

Mr HELM urged that nothing had been done and nothing can be done during the session and he favored the resolution The Polk county case would require forty days to try it and cost the State enormously

Mr COX thought the opponents of the House had manifested a disposition to block up all legislation by bringing up the Polk county case He was in favor of the resolution

The SPEAKER ruled the resolution out of order. To adjourn sine die would require a joint resolution.

Mr UPTON from the Select Committee to whom was referred the resolution in relation to the Oregon and California railroad reported recommending its adoption.

Mr HELM moved to lay on the table. Refused—10 to 35

Mr WHITEAKER asked for information on the subject

By invitation Hon. H W CORBETT W S LADD Esq, Gov WOODS and Hon. L. R. MOORES addressed the House in favor of the enterprise.

The resolution was adopted—44 ayes to 1 nay

Mr HENDERSHOTT I have a resolution to offer which I will send up. The Clerk read. I would say to the majority of this House that whenever they will lay down the tomahawk I will meet them half way, but so long as they avoid conciliation I am on the war path. [Boisterous laughter]

Mr HENDERSHOTT. Oh, that's a mistake—it's the wrong paper—that was my argument Here is my resolution

The Clerk read a joint resolution, which proposed to adjourn sine die at 5 o'clock P. M. on Saturday next, and that members should receive no pay for services during the session

Mr FOUDRAY moved to adjourn Refused 21 to 27

Mr HENDERSHOTT moved to adopt his resolution

Mr AVERY advocated it. He contended that nothing had been done, and no one should receive pay

Mr HELM proposed to amend by fixing the time at ten o'clock to-morrow He urged in favor of the resolution that it was impossible to do anything during the short time remaining

Mr WITHERS moved to amend by fixing the time now This motion and that of Mr Helm's was ruled out of order on the grounds of impracticability, as the Senate would have to act on the resolutions.

Mr WITHERS advocated the resolution

Mr COX said that while he was in favor of adjourning sine die soon he should oppose the resolution on the grounds of its unconstitutionality The Constitution of Oregon says the members shall receive pay and here the resolution proposes to violate it [Laughter] I am a great stickler for the Constitution of the United States the Constitution of this State or any other Constitution [Renewed laughter] I would be in favor of excusing such members as do not think they deserve it from being forced to take pay

Mr AVERY. Will the gentleman allow me? I do certainly think that no one who could sit coolly as I have day after day and listen to all this nonsense absurdities, wrangling, gabbling and—

Mr COX. I think it is worth more than three dollars a day to be compelled to suffer the pain of enduring all that, [laughter,] and want my pay for it

Mr BAIRD I am sick with this school boys gabble I understand that we were sent here to do business for the State, but here our time has been squandered in trying to manufacture political capital or get some little advantage of some kind And when we attempt here [illegible] to clear up some of the business which has accumulated on the table the first thing was a motion to adjourn and then a constant attempt to prevent the transaction of business You will get up here and go on and say I have done nothing and yet they are the very men who have prevented anything from being done and we have been constantly trying to make political capital out of everything that comes up It is now late in the session but there is time enough left if we will improve it instead of whistling about it. I hope gentlemen will now come to their senses and try to do something for the country I move to adjourn till to-morrow morning so that we may do a [illegible]

The motion was amended by fixing the hour at 9 A. M and carried 31 to 15, at 9 P. M

THURSDAY MORNING OCTOBER 11 1866

The Orphan Protest in the House

The impudence of the Democratic members in the House surpasses all example even in the history of that not modest party Bent on rule or ruin there is nothing too absurd or iniquitous for them to do, if thereby they can only gain or appear to gain some party advantage They have, it would appear, no country or conscience; and in place of these have substituted party gain or advantage as their rule of action

The Assembly having ratified the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, afterwards the Democrats in the House, by the help of reprehensible practices on the inside and outside succeed in expelling the two Union members from Grant and admitting two Democrats in their place Once in their seats these two Democratic intruders from Grant county, acting doubtless as the instruments of the party which engineered their admission propose to protest against the ratification of the amendment—an act of the House done when they were not present and not members of the Assembly If impudence and ignorance can go further than this, we have got to see the first example of it The so-called protest should at once have been delivered to the Sergeant at Arms, and he directed to take it on the end of a pair of tongs and deposit it among the records of the Court of the Fifth Judicial District for future reference No doubt it would be thought a valuable acquisition there

But a good natured tolerance of these Legislative sharpers prevailed, and the House debated the right of the intruders to protest The Democrats finding their attempted trick untenable, veered round under the lead of their new ally Humason, and moved to adopt this orphan protest as the sense of the House, and this resolution, by the treachery of a member elected by Union votes, was carried by one majority. And now arose a hearty cackle from the Democratic press—"We have undone the ratification of the amendment" Yea, indeed, "We are the people and wisdom shall die with us" The Union party having a majority in the House independent of the so-called contest from Grant, were entitled to a ratification of the amendment. The member by whose vote this so-called resolution was passed, voted for that amendment and was elected to do so—and more, Yet this rescinding resolution, adopted by one vote, and that vote a treacherous betrayal of a whole constituency, is set up as something worthy of approbation and entitled to great weight.

The whole protesting business is a humbug—a thing that has outlived the reason for it. The stump speech on the state of the Union has taken its place When the speeches and proceedings in Parliament were not allowed to be published, a protest from a member enabled him to put upon the journals and thus preserve to posterity along with the act protested against, the reasons of his dissent But in these days the member publishes his speech, or it is published for him, and a protest is nothing but a speech entered in a journal This thing never had any legal signification or force and has none now In contemplation of law it never could be allowed to impair or contradict the action of the House, but was at best, only the personal justification or reasons of the member for his disagreement with the majority.

But the idea of any one being allowed to protest against an act that he did not as a member oppose,—that was enacted when he was not present, when he was not a member of the Legislature and could not dissent, is a new thing under the sun, and well worthy of its distinguished paternity.

Yet after all, this labored action was trouble in vain. The glory of the Copperheads was exceedingly short lived Their orphan protest was got through on Saturday. On Tuesday it was reconsidered, and on Wednesday it was rejected So the only result of all this worry was the wasting of four full days of the time allotted for the session, with an expense to the State, on a moderate calculation, of one thousand dollars. It has been rather a costly experiment to make capital for the Democratic party. It is to be hoped that the fathers of the resolution are satisfied with the result. True, Rosenheim threw off on them, but that is their misfortune. Perhaps they may succeed in turning his head again before the session closes. He has now "swung around the entire circle," and perhaps may swing around it again The final action in relation to this orphan protest settles the charge that the amendment was not legally ratified. The Democrats went out wooling and got fleeced All the pretext they had for declaring that the amendment was fraudulently ratified is gone. They are beautifully caught in their own trap.

The Coming Fair.

The valley of the Willamette occupies a proud position among the agricultural regions of the Pacific coast. As it is first in size among them, so ought it also to be first in the variety, quantity and excellence of its productions. The State is now reaching a stage of development which should show that our farmers are quite up in point of progressiveness to those of other portions of the country. The State Fair is to be held next week, at which it is hoped it will be shown that much improvement has been made in agricultural matters during the last year There are resources within easy reach of the point where the Fair is to be held, sufficient to furnish a splendid exhibition No land or clime can surpass ours in productions native to this section, and none, we are persuaded, can show more rapid improvement in the economy of agriculture than Oregon has experienced within the last few years

Farming is a different business from what it once was Men formerly tilled the soil as a necessary means of obtaining a livelihood, now they take hold of the plow to make money. A few years ago a subsistence was all that this occupation could give It now affords, or may afford, a life of independence in the noblest profession in which skill can engage The old drudgery of the farm is banished by the use of agricultural machinery, the slovenly methods which were once in vogue have given way to others suggested by better intelligence, a greater variety of products are called for and continually brought forth, and the farmer is no longer content with simply enough of grain or flax or wool or meat to supply his own necessities He is interested in the markets, and endeavors to keep informed about the commercial transactions of the country He studies the economy of his trade and seeks constantly to gather facts in regard to seeds, implements and the best modes of cultivation Now agricultural fairs may be largely instrumental in furnishing him with the kind of knowledge he requires He may there obtain the benefits of the experience of others, and see the results of the various processes of agriculture which the ingenuity of thousands has devised and followed In the works of mechanical art there exhibited, he may see many objects of interest, and observe many improvements which it will be to his advantage to adopt In every sense fairs may be made profitable to those who are imbued with a spirit of progress in agricultural pursuits

The coming Fair ought to be a success We believe it would have been much better had it been appointed to take place two or three weeks sooner It is rather late in the autumn for a great exhibition like this, and hereafter we hope to see the time fixed somewhat earlier Still, if the Fair escapes the rains, there will no doubt be a large attendance there Preparations are made for a grand and useful exhibition and every farmer and artisan ought to contribute to make it such both in name and fact

Engineer Walker reports the following work performed by the steam dredger for the week ending Saturday, October 6th

Monday 1st—8 loads, 400 cubic yards parted back chain four times.

Tuesday, 2d—7 loads, 350 cubic yards, broke hoisting chain once.

Wednesday, 3d—1 load in the new channel, then removed the dredger to the ship channel, after getting soundings and placing the machine removed 3 loads, in doing which the shovel fouled a stump about 20 feet long, raised it roots first and the heavy roots hanging over the end of the shovel forming such a leverage that it severely wrenched the handle, and were obliged to strap some part of it with iron

Thursday, 4th—4 loads, 200 cubic yards copper pipe burst in the heater, and was obliged to go to Portland to get it repaired.

Friday, 5th—Spent the day repairing

Saturday 6th—4 loads took soundings found the sand had run into where we had dredged as we had deepened the water only about 2 feet, and that but for a short distance, the sand being of such a loose and shifting nature that our work must, of necessity be very imperfect

I find the channel at the extreme lower end to be very narrow though deep enough and I propose this week, after the stump puller (which is at present working there) is finished, to try and widen it Then, if the gentlemen of the Committee think proper, we will commence operations at Swan Island, where I should like to do just enough to ensure the steamers coming to Portland with safety then proceed with our new channel

I do not wish to seem to dictate to your honorable body but will the gentlemen please bear in mind that the summer is short here, and I would like to do that which will accomplish the most good in the shortest possible space of time, and for this reason I am very sorry we were unable to have the dredger in operation at least a month sooner than we did.

The following is the amount of work performed by the stump puller for the week ending as above

Monday 1st, 4 trees Tuesday 2d, 4 trees Wednesday 3d, 4 trees, Thursday 4th, 5 trees, Friday 5th, 5 trees, Saturday 6th 5 trees

In addition to the above we have removed numberless roots, limbs, etc.

The hoisting chain has not troubled us near as much during the past week, probably owing partly, to the repairs of the week previous, and partly to the fact that I reduced the quantity of steam, using now only forty pounds where we formerly used sixty pounds

Accident.—Quite a painful accident occurred at Carter's mill (late Eaton & Stimpson's) this morning A stranger had entered the mill and was leisurely walking around the mill, viewing the machinery and taking a general interest in whatever was going on. The men were engaged in letting down the chain for the purpose of hauling up logs. The stranger was standing upon the log-way when the chain ran down, when, as the chain had reached the water and the wheel was reversed and the chain tightened, it flew up and striking him upon the face knocked him senseless. The blow was a severe one, and had it have struck him but little higher, the result would have been serious. The log-way is a very steep one and when the chain is hitched to a log and a loose end lying on the mill floor, the wheel runs very rapidly and the slack is taken up and the strain comes upon the chain, when it comes up with a jerk. It is surprising that the man was not more seriously injured. The gentleman is a stranger in the city, and was from Albany.

A Restaurant.—We attended the opening of this new refreshment saloon under Oro-Fino Hall on First street, last night. The room is eighty feet long by twenty seven wide, has fourteen tables and four private rooms—eleven of the tables seating three each, and the others four persons, and the private apartments for private parties numbering twelve or fourteen. The main entrance will be on First with a private one on Front street. The cuisine is perfect in every particular, and would do a professional cook good to visit. This is the par excellence the eating institution of Portland, and will attract alike the gourmand epicurean, connoisseur and ordinary eater Mr Theodore Marriot, the proprietor has had an extensive experience as a caterer, and is au fait in all departments of the restaurant business. His bill of fare is of the most recherche description including every known culinary delicacy, as well as the choicest wines. To know that there is a place of this kind in the city, will be desirable information to the outsider or insider.

The Race.—The race yesterday went off finely The day was cloudy and cool, the track in fine order, and a large crowd had gathered to witness the race On the first heat, the horses were brought up and went off at the tap. Fly-by-Night took the lead at the start and kept it, winning the heat in 2 55. Second heat won by Fly-by-Night—time, 2 50 On the third heat the horse broke up badly, running so that the judges ruled him out, and awarded the heat and race to Nellie, time of last heat, 2:55.

Land Sales.—We learn of an extensive transfer of real estate made between Messrs Eaton & Stimpson and Messrs Carter, Hayden & Co. by which the former named gentlemen, having become proprietors of the Lincoln House property in go for their new mill property and one block of river front adjacent To effect the trade real estate to the value of $15,000 changed hands We wish all success to the new owners. We hear some talk of a new steam mill being put up by Messrs. Carter & Co. Await further developments.

A Skiff containing a man was run down by the ferry boat yesterday morning. The skiff was going across before the ferry boat. No particular damage was done beyond a sudden cold bath and the fright upon such an accident. The man was rescued by parties on board the ferry boat. The ferry boat was not injured, and immediately resumed her trips between here and East Portland.

Last Night's Lecture.—The lecture delivered last night at the Synagogue, "Beth Israel," by Mr Jacob Lambief, upon the principles of the Order of B nai B'rith, was attended by some two hundred and fifty ladies and gentlemen We have no room to give a synopsis of the lecture, but the lecture was highly instructive, and the hearers all seemed to be well entertained.

The Ball at Oregon City.—Is advertised for this evening, and our neighbors anticipate and are prepared to receive a large delegation from Portland, We understand the P. T. Co. will dispatch a steamer at a late hour this afternoon, returning early to-morrow morning for the accommodation of those who wish to attend

For Chief Engineer.—Mr James Bothwell is announced as an independent candidate for the office of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department of this city Mr Bothwell is one of the pioneers of the Department and will no doubt receive a hearty support

Late Papers.—We received from McCormick last evening files of late papers, for which he has our thanks Among them are Harpers Weekly, Leslie's Illustrated, Wilkes' Spirit, and Harper's Magazine.

The Celilo.—The Celilo was brought to the city yesterday for repairs, she having bent her piston rod while at work on the river improvement

The Pioneers.—The Pioneers will meet for practice, on their grounds in East Portland, this afternoon at 4 o'clock sharp.

The "Martha Washington" Hair Restorer is a wonder of the world, Nothing of the kind can equal it.

FOR CHIEF ENGINEER.

By request of many friends in the Fire Department, I announce myself as a candidate for the office of Chief Engineer

The President's Reception in St. Louis.

The President and party were received in St. Louis September 9th. The following is the material portion of his speech, as reported in the St. Louis Democrat of September 10th:

SPEECH OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON.

Fellow-citizens of St. Louis: In being introduced to you to-night it is not for the purpose of making a speech. It is true I am proud to meet so many of my fellow-citizens here on this occasion, and under the favorable circumstances that I do. [Cry, "How about our British subjects?"] We will attend to John Bull after awhile so far as that is concerned. [Laughter and loud cheers.] I have just stated that I was not here for the purpose of making a speech, but after being introduced, simply to tender my cordial thanks for the welcome you have given to me in your midst. [A voice: "Ten thousand welcomes;" Hurrahs and cheers.] Thank you, sir. I wish it was in my power to address you under favorable circumstances upon some of the questions that agitate and distract the public mind at this time. Questions that have grown out of a fiery ordeal we have just passed through, and which I think as important as those we have just passed by. The time has come when it seems to me that all ought to be prepared for peace—the rebellion being suppressed, and the shedding of blood being stopped, the sacrifice of life being suspended and stayed, it seems that the time has arrived when we should have peace; when the bleeding arteries should be tied up. [A voice: "New Orleans; go on."]

Perhaps, if you had a word or two on the subject of New Orleans, you might understand more about it than you do. [Laughter and cheers.] And if you will go back [cries for Seward]—if you will go back and ascertain the cause of the riot in New Orleans, perhaps you would not be so prompt in calling out New Orleans. If you will take up the riot in New Orleans and trace it back to its source, or to its immediate cause, you will find out who was responsible for the blood that was shed there.

If you will take up the riot at New Orleans and trace it back to the radical Congress [great cheering and cries of "Bully!"], you will find that the riot at New Orleans was substantially planned—if you will take up the proceedings in their caucuses you will understand that they there knew [cheers] that a Convention was to be called which was extinct by its powers having expired; that it was said, and the intention was, that a new Government was to be organized; and in the organization of that Government the intention was to enfranchise one portion of the people called the colored population, who had just been emancipated, and at the same time disfranchise white men. [Great cheering.] When you begin to talk about New Orleans [confusion] you ought to understand what you are talking about.

When you read the speeches that were made or take up the facts—on Friday and Saturday before that Convention sat—you will there find that speeches were made incendiary in their character, exciting that portion of the population, the black population, to arm themselves and prepare for the shedding of blood. [A voice, "That's so!" and cheers.] You will also find that that Convention did assemble, in violation of law, and the intention of that Convention was to supersede the recognized authorities in the State Government of Louisiana, which had been recognized by the Government of the United States, and every man engaged in that rebellion—in that Convention, with the intention of superseding and upturning the civil Government which had been recognized by the Government of the United States—I say that he was a traitor to the Constitution of the United States [cheers], and hence you find that another rebellion was commenced, having its origin in the radical Congress. These men were to go there; a Government was to be organized, and the one in existence in Louisiana was to be superseded, set aside and overthrown. You talk to me about New Orleans! And then the question was to come up, when they had established their Government—a question of political power—which of the two Governments was to be recognized—a new Government inaugurated under this defunct Convention—set up in violation of law, and without the consent of the people. And then when they had established their Government, and extended universal and impartial franchise, as they called it, to this colored population, then this radical Congress was to determine that a Government established on negro votes was to be the Government of Louisiana. [Voices, "Never," and cheers and "Hurrah for Andy."]

So much for the New Orleans riot—and there was the cause and the origin of the blood that was shed, and every drop of blood that was shed is upon their skirts, and they are responsible for it. [Cheers.] I could trace this thing a little closer, but I will not do it here to-night. But when you talk about New Orleans, and talk about the causes and consequences that resulted from proceedings of that kind, perhaps, as I have been introduced here, and you have provoked questions of this kind, though it don't provoke me, I will tell you a few wholesome things that has been done by this radical Congress. [Cheers.]

In connection with New Orleans and the extension of the elective franchise, I know that I have been traduced and abused. I know it has come in advance of me here, as it has elsewhere, that I have attempted to exercise an arbitrary power in resisting laws that was intended to be enforced on the Government. [Cheers, and cries of "Hear!"] Yes, that I had exercised the veto power ["Bully for you!"]; that I had abandoned the power that elected me, and that I was a t-r-a-i-tor [cheers] because I exercised the veto power in attempting to, and did arrest for a time, a bill that was called a Freedmen's Bureau bill. [Cheers.] Yes, that I was a t-r-a-i-t-o-r! And I have been traduced, I have been slandered, I have been maligned, I have been called Judas—Judas Iscariot, and all that. Now, my countrymen here to-night, it is very easy to indulge in epithets, it is very easy to call a man Judas and cry out t-r-a-i-t-o-r, but when he is called upon to give arguments and facts he is very often found wanting.

Judas, Judas Iscariot, Judas! There was a Judas once, one of the twelve Apostles. Oh! yes, and these twelve Apostles had a Christ. [A voice—"And a Moses, too." Great laughter.] The twelve Apostles had a Christ, and he couldn't have had a Judas unless he had had twelve Apostles. If I have played the Judas, who has been my Christ that I have played the Judas with? Was it Thad. Stephens? Was it Wendell Phillips? Was it Charles Sumner? [Hisses and cheers.] Are these the men that set up and compare themselves with the Savior of men, and everybody that differs with them in opinion, and try to stay and arrest their diabolical and nefarious policy, is to be denounced as a Judas? ["Hurrah for Andy," and cheers.]

In the days when there were twelve Apostles and when there were a Christ, while there were Judases, there were unbelievers, too. Y-e-s; while there were Judases there were unbelievers. [Voices, "Hear;" "Three groans for Fletcher."] Yes, oh yes! unbelievers in Christ; men who persecuted and slandered and brought him before Pontius Pilate and preferred charges and condemned and put him to death on the cross, to satisfy unbelievers. And this same persecuting, diabolical and nefarious clan to-day would persecute and shed the blood of innocent men to carry out their purposes. [Cheers.] But let me tell you—let me give you a few words here to-night—and but a short time since I heard some one say in the crowd that we had a Moses. [Laughter and cheers.] Yes, there was a Moses. And I know sometimes it has been said that I have said that I would be the Moses of the colored man. ["Never," and cheers.] Why, I have labored as much in the cause of emancipation as any other mortal man living. But while I have strived to emancipate the colored man, I have felt, and now feel, that we have a great many white men that want emancipation. [Laughter and cheers.] There is a set amongst you that have got shackles upon their limbs, and are as much under the heel and control of their masters as the colored man that was emancipated. [Cheers.] I call upon you here to-night, as freemen—as men who favor the emancipation of the white man as well as the colored ones. I have been in favor of emancipation; I have nothing to disguise about that; I have tried to do as much, and have done as much, and when they talk about Moses and the colored man being led into the promised land, where is the land that this clan proposes to lead them? [Cheers.] When we talk about taking them out from among the white population and sending them to other climes, what is it they propose? Why, it is to give us a Freedmen's Bureau. And after giving us a Freedmen's Bureau, what then? Why, here in the South it is not necessary for me to talk to you, where I have lived and you have lived, understanding the whole system, and how it operates; we know how the slaves have been worked heretofore. Their original owners bought the land and raised the negroes, or purchased them, as the case may be; paid all the expenses of carrying on the farm, and in the end, after producing tobacco, cotton, hemp and flax, and all the various products of the South, bringing them into market, without any profit to them, while these owners put it all into their own pockets. This was their condition before emancipation. This was their condition before we talked about their "Moses." [Laughter.] Now, what is the plan? I ask your attention for a few minutes. I am addressing myself to your brains, and not to your prejudices; to your reason and not to your passions. And when reason and argument again resume their empire, this mist, this prejudice that has been incrusted upon the public mind must give way and reason become triumphant. [Cheers.]

I simply intended to-night to tender you my sincere thanks. But as I go along, as we are talking about this Congress and these respected gentlemen, who contend that the President is wrong, because he vetoed the Freedmen's Bureau bill, and all this—because he chose to exercise the veto power he committed a high offense, and, therefore, ought to be impeached. [Voice—"Never!"] Y-e-s, y-e-s; they are ready to impeach him. [Voice—"Let them try it."] And if they were satisfied they had the next Congress by as decided a majority as this, upon some pretext or other—violating the Constitution, neglect of duty, or omitted to enforce some Act of law—upon some pretext or other they would vacate the Executive Department of the United States. [A voice—"Too bad they don't impeach him."] What? As we talk about this Congress, let me call the soldiers' attention to this immaculate Congress. Let me call your attention. Oh, this Congress! that could make war upon the President because he stands upon the Constitution and vindicates the rights of the people, exercising the veto power in their behalf—because he dared to do this they can clamor and talk about impeachment. And by way of elevating themselves and increasing confidence with the soldiers throughout the country, they talk about impeachments.

* * * *

I know that there are some who have got their little pieces and sayings to repeat on public occasions, like parrots, that have been placed in their mouths by their superiors, who have not the courage and manhood to come forward and tell them themselves, but have their understrappers to do their work for them. [Cheers.] I know there is some that talk about this universal elective franchise, upon which they wanted to upturn the Government of Louisiana and institute another; who contended that we must send men there to control, govern, and manage their slave population, because they are incompetent to do it themselves. And yet they turn round when they get there and say they are competent to go to Congress, and manage the affairs of state. [Cheers.] Before you commence throwing your stones, you ought to be sure you don't live in a glass house. Then, why all this clamor? Don't you see, my countrymen, it is a question of power; and being in power as they are, their object is to perpetuate their power? Hence, when you talk about turning any of them out of office, oh, they talk about "bread and butter." [Laughter.] Yes, these men are the most perfect "bread and butter party" that has ever appeared in this Government. [Great cheering.] When you make an effort, or struggle to take the nipple out of their mouths, how they clamor! They have stayed at home here five or six years, held the offices, grown fat and enjoyed all the emoluments of position; and now, when you talk about turning one of them out, "Oh, it is proscription;" and hence they come forward and propose in Congress to do what? To pass laws to prevent the Executive from turning any of them out. [Voice, "Put 'em out."] Hence, don't you see what the policy was to be? I believe in the good old doctrine advocated by Washington, Jefferson and Madison, of rotation in office. Those people who have been enjoying these offices seem to have lost sight of this doctrine. I believe that when one set of men have enjoyed the emoluments of office long enough they should let another portion of the people have a chance. [Cheers.] How are these men to be got out—[Voice—"Kick 'em out." Cheers and laughter.]—unless your Executive can put them out, unless you can reach them through the President? Congress says he shall not turn them out, and they are trying to pass laws to prevent it being done. Well, let me say to you, if you will stand by me in this action [cheers], if you will stand by me in trying to give the people a fair chance, soldiers and citizens, to participate in these offices, God being willing, I will kick them out, just as fast as I can. [Great cheering.] Let me say to you, in concluding, what I have said, and I intended to say but little, but was provoked into this rather than otherwise. I care not for the menaces, the taunts and the jeers, I care not for the threats; I do not intend to be bullied by my enemies nor overawed by my friends [cheers]; but, God willing, with your help, I will veto their measures whenever they come to me. [Cheers.] I place myself upon the ramparts of the Constitution, and when I see the enemy approaching, so long as I have eyes to see, or ears to hear, or a tongue to sound the alarm, so help me God, I will do it and call on the people to be my judges. [Cheers.] I tell you here to-night that the Constitution of the country is being encroached upon. I tell you here to-night that the citadel of liberty is being endangered. [A voice—"Go it, Andy."]

Nasby in Detroit.

THE REVEREND PETROLEUM V. ACCOMPANIES THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

CONFEDERATE X ROADS,
(Wich is in the Stait of Kentucky,)
Sept. 4, 1866.

Step by step I am assendin the ladder uv fame—step by step I am climbin to a proud eminence. Three weeks ago I was summoned to Washington by that eminently grate and good man, Androo Johnson, to attend a consultation ez to the proposed Western tour, wich wuz to be undertaken for the purpose of arousin the masses of the West to a sense uv the danger wich wuz threatening uv em in case they persisted in centralizin the power of the Government into the hands uv a Congress, insted of diffusin it throughout the hands uv one man, wich is Johnson. I got there too late to take part in the first of the discussion. When I arrove they had everything settled, ceptin the appointment uv a Chaplain for the excursion. The President insisted upon my fillin that position, but Seward objected. He wanted Beecher, but Johnson was inflexibly agin him. "I am determined," sez he, "to carry out my policy, but I hev some bowels left. Beecher has done enough already, considerin the pay he got. No! no! he shel be spared this trip—indeed he shel."

"Very good," said Seward; "but at least find some clergyman who indorses us without hevin P. M. to his honored name. It would look better."

"I know it would," replied Johnson; "but where can we find such a one? I hev swung around the entire circle, and hev'nt as yet seen him. Nasby it must be."

There wuz then a lively discussion ez to the propriety before the procession started of removin all the Federal offis-holders on the proposed route and apintin men who beleeved in us (Johnson, Beecher and me), that we might be sure of a suitable reception at each pint at which we was to stop. The Annointed wuz in favor uv it. Sez he, "Them ez won't support my policy shan't eat my bread and butter." Randall and Doolittle chimed in, for it's got to be part of their religion to assent to whatever the President sez, but I mildly protested. I owe a duty to the party, and I am determined to do it.

"Most high," sez I, "a sett'n hen wich is fuzy makes no fuss—cut its head off and it flops about for a while lively. Lincoln's offis-holders are settin hens. They don't like yoo nor your policy: but while they are on their nests, they will keep moderitly quiet. Cut off their heads and they will spurt their blood in your face. Ez to bein enshoored of a reception at each point, you need fear nothin. Calkerlatin moderately, there are at least twenty-five or thirty patriots who feel a call for every offis in your disposal. So long, Yoor Highnis, ez them offisis is held jist where they kin see them, and they don't know which is to git 'em, yoo may depend upon the entire enthoosiasm uv each, individooally and collectively. In short, ef there's 4 offisis in a town and yoo make the appointments, yoo hev sekoored supporters—till you make the appointments yoo can hev the hundred who expect to get em."

The President agreed with me that until after the trip the gullotine shood stop.

Secretary Seward sejested that a clean shirt wood improve my personal appearance, and akkordingly a circular was sent to the clerks in the Department, assessen em for that purpose, sich of em as refused to contribute their quota was instantly dismissed for disloyalty.

At last we started, and I must say we was got up in a highly conciliatory style. Every one uv the civilians uv the party wore buzzem pins, et settry, which was presented to em by the Southern delegates to the Philadelphia Convention, which was made uv the bones uv Federal soldiers which had fallen at various battles. Sum uv em were particklerly valuable as antecks, havin been made from the bones uv the fust soldiers who fell at Bull Run. The Noo York recepshun wuz a gay affair. I never saw His Imperial Highnis in better spirits and he delivered his speech to better advantage than I ever heard him before, and I bleeve I've heard it a hundred times. We left Noo York sadly. Even now as I write the remembrance uv that percershun—the recollection of that banquet lingers around me, and the taste uv them wines is still in my mouth. But we hed to go. We hed a mishn to perform, and we put ourselves on a steamboat and started.

ALBANY.—There wuz a immense crowd, but the Czar uv all the Amerikans didn't get orff his speech here. The Governor welcomed him, but he welcomed him ez the Cheef Magistrate uv the nashen, and happened to drop in Lincoln's name. That struck a chill over the party, and the President got out uv it ez quick ez possible. Bein resceved as Cheef Magistrate and not as the great Pacificator, ain't his Eggsigency's best holt. It was unkind uv Gov. Fenton to do it. If he takes the papers he ought to know that his Mightiness ain't got but one speech and he ought to hev made sich a recepshun as wood hev enabled him to get it off. We shook the dust off uv our feet and left Albany in disgust.

SKENACTADY.—The people uv this delightful little village wuz awake when the imperial train arrived. The changes hevn't bin made in the offices here, and consekently there wuz a splendid recepshun. I didn't suppose there wuz so many patriots along the Mohawk. I wuz pinted out by sum one es the President's private adviser—a sort uv private Secretary uv State, and after the train started I found just 211 petitions for the Post Office in Skenactady in my side coat pocket, which the patriots who hed hurrahed so vociferously hed dexterously deposited there. The incident wuz a movin one. "Thank God," thought I: "so long ez we hev the post offices to give, we kin allus hev a party." The Sultan swung around the circle wunst here, and leavin the Constitooshun in their hands the train moved off.

ROME.—Here we hed a splendid recepshun, and I never heard his majesty speak more felicitously. He menshuned to the audience that he had swung around the Southern side uv the cirkle and wus now swingin around the Northern side uv it, and that he wuz fightin traitors on all sides. He left the Constitooshun in their hands and bid em good bye. I received at this pint only 120 petitions for the post office, which I took ez a bad omen for the comin eleeshun.

UTICA.—The President spoke here with greater warmth and jerked more originality than I had before observed. He introduced here the remark that he didn't come to make a speech—that he wuz goin to shed a tear over the tomb uv Douglas—that in swinging around the cirkle he hed fought traitors on all sides uv it, but that he felt safe. He shood leave the Constitooshun in their hands, and of a martyr was wanted he wuz reddy to die with neetness and dispatch.

LOCKPORT.—The President is improving wonderfully. He rises with the occasion. At this pint he mentioned that he wuz sot on savin the country which hed honored him. Ez for himself, his ambishun wuz more than satisfied. He hed bin Alderman, member of the Legislacher, Congressman, Senator, Military Governor, Vice-President and President. He hed swung around the entire circle uv offices, and all he wanted now wuz to heal the wounds uv the nashen. He felt safe in leavin the constooshen in their hands. Ez he he swung around the circle—

At this pint I interrupted him. I told him that he hed swung around the circle wunst in this town, and ez yoosful ez the phrase wuz it might spile by too much yoose.

At Cleveland we begun to get into hot water. Here is the post to which the devilish Ablishinism is chained, and his chain ez long enough to let him range over nearly the whole South. I am pained to state that the President wuzn't treated here with the respeck due his station. He commenst deliverin his speech, but wuz made the subjeck of ribald insult. Skarsely hed he got to the pint uv swingin around the circle, when a foul-mouthed nigger lover yelled "Veto," and another vociferated "Noo Orleans," and another remarked "Memphis," and one thing after another occurred until his Highness wuz completely turned off the track and got wild. He forgot his speech and struck out crazy, but the starch wuz out uv him and he wuz worsted. Grant, wich he had taken along to draw the crowds, played dirt on us here, and stepped onto a boat for Detroit, leavin us only Farragut ez a attraction, who tried twice to git away ditto, but wuz timely prevented. The President recovered his ekanimity and swung around the circle wunst, and, leavin the constooshen in their hands, retired.

At the next pint we was astounded at seein but one man at the station. He wuz dressed with a sash over his shoulder, and wuz wavin a flag with wun hand, firin a saloot with a revolver with the other and playin "Hail to the Chief" on a mouth organ all to onst. "Who are you, my gentle friend," says I. "I'm the newly appointed Postmaster, sir," sez he. "I'm a perseshun a waitin here to do honor to our Chief Magistrate all alone, sir. There wuz twenty Johnsonians in this hamlet, sir, but when the commishun came for me, the other nineteen wuz soured an said they didn't care a d—n for him nor his policy. Where is the President?" Androo wuz a goin to swing around the cirkle for this one man and leave the constitushn in his hands but Seward checked him.

At Fremont we hed a handsome recepshun, for the offises hevn't been changed there, but Toledo didn't do so well. The crowd didn't cheer Androo much, but when Farragut was trotted out they gave him a rouser, which wuz anything but pleasin to the Cheef Magistrate uv this nashen, who bleevs in bein respected.

Finally we reached Detroit. This bein a Democratic city the President wuz hisself again. His speech here wuz one of rare merit. He gethered together in one quiver all the sparkling arrows he had used from Washington to this pint, and shot 'em one by one. He swung round the cirkle—he didn't come to make a speech—he had been Alderman of his native town—he might hev bin Dicktater but woodn't—and ended with a poetical cotashun which I coodent ketch, but which ez near ez I cood understand wuz:

> "Kum one, kum all—this rock shall fly.
> From its firm base—in a pig's eye."

Here we repose for the nite. To-morrow we start onward, and shel continue swinging round the cirkle till we reach Chicago.

SOMETHING NEW!

THE NEW LIGHT!
DANFORD'S
Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney, and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of expense, trouble and annoyance, the chimney, is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided; it is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than ½ cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper-light, ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Dufresne, corner of Morrison and First streets.

making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public
